The SIAS Investors' Choice Awards are the culmination of a rigorous, investor-centric research process developed by Securities Investors Association (Singapore) ("SIAS") and the NUS Business School Centre for Governance and Sustainability (CGS). For 2025, they introduced an enhanced Award scorecard and methodology with a holistic focus on sustainability. This investor-centric framework rates the best-performing listed companies in sustainability, governance, transparency, and communications for the benefit of investors. The Awards' Selection Committee comprises senior journalists, industry leaders, and corporate governance practitioners. The award is supported by SGX Group and is a hallmark of corporate excellence.

The Most Transparent Company Award specifically honours listed companies that demonstrate a strong commitment to promptly disclose material information and actively support shareholders' rights.
